Sara Canaday's Event Introduction

Today's guest is a leadership strategist, award-winning author, and former corporate executive who helps arm professionals with the strategies and practices they need to make the critical shift from informed to influential, from doer to driver, and from manager to leader.

She works with Fortune 500 companies who are committed to helping their leaders and high potentials expand their impact, ignite innovation, and fuel their growth.

When she's not speaking or working with her clients, she's cheering on her son's football team or hiding new shoe purchases from her husband and 19-year old daughter. Please join me in welcoming Speaker, Consultant, and Wanna-be Cupcake Wars judge, Sara Canaday.
